

Lucera has been given the privilege of hosting, during the Assembly of the Attorneys of Europe, a parallel work session, centered on initial training.

The cradle of almost three millenniums of history, a forerunner in noble humanistic minds, the site of ancient approaches to liberal ideas and the headquarters of the highly respected Tribunal of Puglia, this city and its Palace of Justice, together with its Order of Attorneys, greet the Young Members of the Legal Profession who will confront themes that in Italy and throughout the Old Continent are acknowledged to be of fundamental importance.

They are even more important today when confronting their implications constitutes an increasingly urgent task.

Initial training and access to a marvelous profession that defends rights and freedoms, must be guided (as the Attorneys well understand) towards an objective that, far from seeking to go against the current of the free market, implies the pursuit of the irreproachable qualitative and ethical values of the service.

It consists of a training course whose management, legally regulated, cannot be denied to the Attorney Class.
